MARRIAGE IN ENGLAND. Not Uncommon for the Husband to Be the Younger. One of the surprising things to American women who marry in England is the number of Englishwomen who marry men from five to twenty years younger than themselves. The action of Baroness Burdett-Ccutts in taking so young a husband as Mr. Bartlett is

The Crescent City Rice mills, York, burned Saturday mor Loss, $100,000; insurance, $75,000. by no means uncommen in all grades of English society, and a bit of a shock to the romantic minded American, who prefers to let her husband have quite the advantage of her in point of years at least. It was with almost a little gasp of horror a sentimental little American was told of the first meeting between Mrs. Ritchie, Thuckeray's daughter, and her present husband. His mother was a dear friend of Miss Anne Thackeray, who, one day, when about 20 years old, dropping into the Crockett, is dying at his home in Big Ritchie home, received the interesting information of a brand new arrival in Thackeray's arms, as that young lady remarked with a laugh: "So it is another pink little boy come to make the At 12:25 p. m. MURDER DONE BY A BIRD. Orlole Resents Captivity by Killing Off Its Young. It has been claimed by observers of birds that some of the feathered tribe will feed their young if they are caged, and if they fail after a certain time to release them they will bring them a poisoned weed to cat that death may end their captivity. A few days ago, at the Holstein ranch, says the Carson (Nev.) Appeal, the children captured a nest of three young orioles, and they were immediately caged and hung in a tree. The mother was soon about, calling her young, and in a little while brought them some worms. She continued feeding them regularly for some days without seeming to pay much attention to persons about. But on Sunday came the tragic ending that demonstrated the theory relative to birds. She brought them a sprig of green on Sunday morning and disappeared. In less than an hour they all died. The sprig was examined and proved to be the deadly larkspur, a weed that will kill full-grown cattle. The little creatures lay dead in the cage and slightly foaming at the mouth, victims of their mother's stern resolve that her offspring should die by her own act rather than live in captivity.

FOOLING THE VULTURES. But the Birds Soon Found Out Their

Mistuke. Some sports recently took place at a station in Upper Burmah, one of the events being what is popularly known as a "Victoria cross race"-that is, the competitors have to ride some distance, taking two or three hurdles on their way, to a point where there are arranged a number of figures, shaped like human bodies; then they dismount, fire a round of blank cartridges, pick up a him. Gilbert got hold of a shotgun dummy each, and race back, says Pear- and fired one shot which took effect in son's Weekly.

prices mean for goods worth and over, the dummies were left on the all the gang save one were captured are selling every day for double ground, and in about half anthour after and jailed. the ground was deserted I noticed a vulture settle on the ground close to the The rush for Bargains has been dummies: in about another five minutes

The birds seemed much puzzled as the line, and eventually, after sitting in a circle for a short time, flew away. The birds must have discovered the dummies by sight, though I have often heard that vultures rely on their sense of smell as well.

Wonders of Photography.

A new and interesting phase of scientific research is described in an account of what is called "thought photographs." The paper says that some one gazed steadily at a postage-stamp stuck to a black eard for about a minute, and then, in the darkened room, a sensitive photographic mate was placed on the spot just occupied by the stamp, and the person continued to look-for 20 minutes this time. The plate was then removed for development, and two distinct impressions of the postagestamp were obtained. Credible witnesses were there to see that everything was in order, and the more one thinks of this experiment the more startling its possibilities become. In the course of a few years the instantancous-photograph fiend will take snap-shots of our thoughts, develop them, and find out our most hidden sentiments toward humanity at large.

Laying a Japanese Cable. There seems to be little that the plucky Japanese cannot take hold of and handle successfully, but we confess our surprise at finding them ready to undertake cable laying. It is stated that they have bought 500 knots of submarine cable to connect Japan with Formosa and are going to lay it themselves. The next thing they will do will be to manufacture the cable itself and supply the whole eastern world. When the time comes for connecting Asia with America by direct cable the alert and energetic Japanese may want to do some more cable work, and judging from present indications they are far more likely to be "in it" than Americans are. Somehow our cable manufacturers, admirable as are their produets, never go down to deep sea work.

A Horrible Superstition. About a month ago, while the natives of Klein-Batanga, in the German possessions in Africa, were assembled at a dance, two negroes sneaked into one of the huts, stole a small child, carried her into the bush and there murdered her that they might prepare from her | 240. skin a charm against attack from leopards. The mother did not rest until she had ferreted out the murderers, and they are now very dead men.

A Bandit Band Comes to Grief.

CEDAR CITY, Mo., Jan. 18 .- Friday afternoon an exciting shooting affair occurred here which resulted in the death of the leader of a gang of bandits who undertook to take possession of the town. The gang, six in number, attempted to run things, and one of them fired five shots at Charles Gilbert, of Fulton, but without striking the leader, killing him instantly.
